

STEPPING NOTES

music school for the 2's to 8's

Thank you for your interest in Stepping Notes.

Some Stepping Notes classes are very often full, and some have waiting-lists. Therefore, if you are potentially interested in enrolling your child, please do try to contact me well in advance, if possible.

If you would like to try Stepping Notes without initially making a long-term commitment, then I suggest you sign up for a three-week trial period. If you pay in advance for your first three weeks, then you don't need to make any further commitment until the end of those three weeks. Do please ring me up in order to arrange this.

There will be no obligation to continue in Stepping Notes after the three-week trial period is over, but if you would like a place to be reserved for your child to continue, then a Parent-Teacher Contract will need to be signed by the end of the final (third) class in the trial period. This would commit you, thenceforth, to paying in advance in eight-week blocks, and giving eight consecutive term-time weeks' written notice of withdrawal. If you would like to peruse a sample copy of this contract in advance, please do let me know; I will be happy to let you have one.

Do not hesitate to contact me if you have any further questions.
